NOTES TO EDITORS

Steeped in history and founded on love for French actress Brigitte Bardot, Lebanese businessman Jean-Prosper Gay-Para built the Byblos in 1967. He sold it to French businessman Sylvain Floirat that same year, and it has stayed within the same family ever since. Four generations on, it is still an iconic destination on the French Riviera.

Built as a village within a village, Hotel Byblos features 90 rooms and suites, including three Byblos Confidentiel apartments and the Missoni Suite, a pool at the heart of the property with its bar Ie B., a spa by Sisley, two fitness centers, Italian trattoria Cucina overseen by Alain Ducasse which launched in 2019, a vegetable garden, Byblos

Beach Ramatuelle located 10 mins drive from the property, Les Caves du Roy nightclub, and the latest addition - restaurant Arcadia which will relaunch in May 2021.

Byblos has acquired mythical status thanks to its remarkable history, the passion of its owners – the Chevanne family – its loyal staff, its amazing guests and its prestigious partners. It is part of luxury hotel group Groupe Floirat which also includes La Réserve Saint-Jean-de-Luz in the French Basque Country, and Les Manoirs de Tourgéville in Normandy.
