Le Coucou selects the finest hideaway in Méribel

Discretely elegant and fantastic skiing... Designed to blend in with nature, Méribel is the oldest resort in the 3-Valleys domain, the biggest ski domain in the world. It was also the favourite residence of Charlotte Perriand, who loved her chalet "close to a singing stream". The famous architect contributed to developing Méribel with Peter Lindsey in the 1930s.

Perched on the heights of Belvédère, close to Le Rond-Point des Pistes, Le Coucou is in one of the loveliest sites in Méribel, next to the slopes. The hotel rubs shoulders with the snow-capped summits and overlooks the entire valley. It contains 55 rooms, including 39 suites, two private chalets, directly accessible ski-in ski-out slopes, two restaurants, one spa, one Kids Club and one Teens Lab, one indoor and one outdoor pool... Nestled in a charming wooden chalet, just like one inhabited by the mischievous bird from which it takes its name, Le Coucou interprets mountain lifestyle in a chic and casual way, where 5-star luxury enhances every experience, thanks to the careful attention of the teams. Atypical, surprising, always unexpected, Le Coucou sings a tune that everyone loves, the exhilarating happiness of holidays and the euphoria of living every moment to the full.

The mountain in all its splendour

When it comes to the art of choosing the best spot, Le Coucou is an expert. With the elegant look of a traditional chalet, snuggled on the mountainside, the hotel blends in perfectly with its environment. It is difficult to believe that it contains ten floors in a space of 12,000 square metres. From top to bottom, on the mountainside and on the valley side, there are majestic peaks as far as the eye can see, and magical points of view where nothing disturbs the beauty and nature. Inside, Pierre Yovanovitch has made each opening into a breathtaking panoramic picture, from the rooms to the bar, from the spa to the restaurants...

A re-enchanted chalet that hides its true nature

It's a game of hide-and-seek, one where you think you are entering a chalet, but in fact you find yourself in a cathedral with superb proportions... Le Coucou cultivates the art of contrast and rupture, between the monumental and the intimate, solid geometric lines and singular blurred volumes, vintage and innovation, impeccable regularity and artisanal imperfection, wood and stone, fabric and metal, glass and leather...

Engaged in a global architectural approach, from layout to decoration, with Le Coucou, Pierre Yovanovitch signs a reinterpretation of the classic repertoire of the Alpine style with a contemporary look that is minimal, but warm and subtly original. Items of antique furniture sit alongside the architect's drawings, who playfully inserts a few mischievous surprises here and there: legs in the form of bird feet (of course) or old ski poles, coat hooks in the form of stylised owls, suspensions of frosted glass evoking melting ice, etc. Little nods to this cheeky cuckoo that leaves its chalet to sing every hour.

A chalet can hide another...

Le Coucou is completed with two private chalets to rent; warm spaces with luxury proportions to relax in the utmost comfort. Independent, but connected to the hotel via an indoor corridor, the chalets benefit from all the 5-star services of Le Coucou. Fully fitted, with four bedrooms, four bathrooms, a kitchen, a lounge opening onto a splendid view, a games corner and TV room, a private swimming pool and spa, a ski-in ski-out ski room, each chalet is perfect for cosy and charming mountain holidays in a décor by Pierre Yovanovitch.

The feeling of absolute relaxation, just like at home but... in the mountains

The singing cuckoo that makes everybody smile has a place of honour in the hotel with an entire collection of old cuckoos on one of the wall of the slope-located restaurant. An idea that symbolises the joy of life in a place where luxury does not take itself seriously, where comfort is never sacrificed for appearance, where making unforgettable holiday memories is a full-time activity.

The architecture has solved all the constraints of mountain life, with smooth flows to make way for the pleasure of skiing. Designed like a boutique lounge with a changing room and cosy café area, the ski room opens directly onto the slopes, with a take-off terrace. Every day, all the ski equipment is managed by the teams, which provide a 5-star service with personalised set-up per room, so that each person is ready to go without wasting any time. Once back, just leave everything where it is and you'll find it in perfect condition the next morning. The gentle and comfortable atmosphere of Le Coucou is just the one we dream of after an intense day's skiing, with warm crêpes waiting at the Bar. Just enjoy the moment with family or friends, without worrying about anything else.

Bar & Restaurants

BIANCANEVE

The Bar is the ideal observatory for watching skiers race down the slopes. It is a meeting place at any moment of the day, with a peak for the snack time buffet and cocktail hour... In the Fumoir, fans can enjoy their cigars and fine liqueurs next to the fireplace, or watch sports in peace.

At lunchtime and in the evening, the BeefBar, a restaurant concept created by Riccardo Giraudi in 2005, welcomes lovers of exceptional meat, inside or on the immense terrace with a view of the valley. It is just what you need to restore strength before getting back on the moguls or racing down the slopes. The menu of the Italian restaurant Bianca Neve invented by the Giraudi Group serves specialities from Tuscany and delicious pizzas cooked in the splendid wood-fired oven every night. It is also here that the wonderful breakfast buffet is served every morning, with a profusion of Viennese pastries, all kinds of fresh fruits, tasty recipes and regional cheeses. A perfect brunch every day...

An imaginary world by Sophie Jacquemin who specialises in creating magic for children. The Kids Club and Teens Lab at the Hotel Le Coucou have been entrusted to Petit VIP* which leads the way in the design of fun and educational activities and qualified leader training for the supervision of kids and teens.

The Kids Club

Throughout their stay at Le Coucou Méribel, kids have access to a magical space, designed just for them. In this colourful and poetic land, they enjoy fantastic encounters with a very kind yeti and funny monsters. They can develop their motor skills on the climbing wall, swoop endlessly down the slide or snuggle up in the huts. Playing and making friends is easy here. Never short of ideas, the Kids Club by Petit VIP* organise various activities daily to pique the Kids curiosity and encourage their skills based on age and what they enjoy. In the laboratory corner, they'll be fascinated by the customised creative activity workshops. There, they can make perfumes, masks, origami tales and gingerbread, stage stories with light and shade, and create Christmas baubles or brightly coloured funny monsters. Each child can have fun while expressing their sensitivity, alone or with the help of mum or dad. Here, parents are also welcome to guide the kids through their discoveries. Holidays remain a special time to reconnect with them and share some quality time together during activities they love. And other surprises await with tobogganing outside and fantastic treasure hunts inside.

Teens Lab

Teens Lab is designed for teenagers with appropriate supervision and activities centred around their main interests. With ping-pong and table football, this too is a great place for youngsters and parents to meet and reconnect while having fun. Grown-ups can also enjoy customised creative workshops on themes such as cookery and mocktails and savour some original recipes. And if they're keen for a quiet chat after hurtling down the slopes, they can settle down in the music corner or try some karaoke. Expect lots of laughs!

Well-being Space

What better way to reconnect with yourself than on holiday? The high altitude and pure mountain air provide the perfect setting to forget stress, re-energise and restore physical and mental balance by all means possible. In a fast-paced world, it is important to prioritise taking some time to reflect on their wellness. With a spa, fitness room, sauna, steam room, hot tub, hair salon, etc., you can't help but relax and unwind in the Coucou Méribel well-being area. The spectacular décor alone is enough to install calm and serenity, both for guests and customers. The two indoor and outdoor pools sit side by side and are separated only by a window. The perfectly aligned pools were designed by Pierre Yovanovitch creating an optical illusion and presenting a unique visual perspective where the indoor pool seems to continue outside.

Maisons Pariente

beautiful and private escapes

A discreet player on the luxury hotel market, the Pariente family made its first appearance in 2013 with L'Apogée in Courchevel. The project was in partnership with Xavier Niel and Oetker Collection, and this first experience turned out to be a revelation. Since then, Maisons Pariente has grown with its takeover of Hotel Crillon Le Brave, and the 5-star hotel Relais & Châteaux, located at the foot of Mont Ventoux in 2018. Hotel Lou Pinet opened its doors in the spring of 2019 in Saint-Tropez. In the meantime, other projects are underway in Méribel with the opening of Le Coucou on December 12th 2019 and in Paris in 2021. Gradually, Maisons Pariente is making its name in the sector with a clear positioning exclusively with 5-star hotels designed like private houses, where each address develops its own unique identity. Privileged havens where time stands still for a special moment away from the hustle and bustle of everyday life.
