BORDEAUX - LE GRAND HOTEL

THE REFERENCE FOR LUXURY HOTELS IN BORDEAUX

Located on Place de la Comédie, in the heart of the city's Golden Triangle, the InterContinental Bordeaux - Le Grand Hôtel has been a hotel legend for over a century. Formerly a private mansion built in 1789 by Victor Louis, this listed building first became a hotel in 1904. Its neo-classical facade with Corinthian colonnades faces the majestic Grand-Théâtre de Bordeaux, completed ten years earlier by the same architect. Two buildings whose destinies are intertwined, forming a unique and inseparable architectural ensemble that has been dear to the hearts of Bordeaux residents for many generations. The InterContinental Bordeaux - Le Grand Hôtel is the ideal starting point for discovering the Bordeaux of yesterday and today.

After a long period of closure, the Grand Hôtel has undergone a veritable renaissance since 2007, thanks to an 8-year metamorphosis. Now once again the benchmark for luxury hotels in Bordeaux, this legendary establishment has retained its authenticity while resolutely entering the 21st century - in the image of Gironde's capital, itself undergoing a masterful transformation.

The InterContinental Bordeaux - Le Grand Hôtel boasts 130 rooms, including 44 suites. 21 of them offer spectacular views of the Grand-Théâtre (Bordeaux National Opera) and Place de la Comédie. The elegant, subdued decor, in the 18th century and Empire styles, was designed by Jacques Garcia. The famous interior decorator sublimated the opulent neo-classical spirit of the premises with his inimitable Baroque touch.
